

APTIS SPEAKING PART 2

Describe the picture

1. What do you think about living in a crowded city?

I think living in a crowded city has its pros and cons (ưu và nhược điểm của nó). On one hand, it can be exciting and convenient to have many things to do and see, and to meet different people. On the other hand, it can also be stressful and noisy. There are many problems like traffic, pollution, and high living costs. I guess it depends on your personality and preferences whether you like it or not.

2. What are the inconveniences of living in a crowded city?

Living in a crowded city can have many inconveniences. For example, you may have to deal with traffic jams, noise pollution, high living costs, and lack of privacy. You may also face more competition for jobs, education, and entertainment. Living in a crowded city can be stressful and exhausting for some people.

Describe the picture

In this picture, I can see two men shopping in a clothes store. One man is holding a striped shirt and showing it to the other man. They both look happy and relaxed. The man on the left is wearing a brown T-shirt, and the other man is wearing a grey sweater. There are some plants and bags on the table in front of them. I think they are friends, and they are enjoying their time together.

1. The last time you went shopping for clothes?

The last time I went shopping for clothes was about two weeks ago. I went to a shopping mall with my friend because I needed some new clothes for summer. I bought a few T-shirts, a pair of shorts, and some sandals. The store had a big sale, so I got everything at a good price. I really enjoyed the experience because it was fun to choose new styles and try them on. We also had lunch together after shopping.

2. Why do people choose different types of clothing?

People choose different types of clothing for a few reasons. First, they wear what matches their personal style. Second, they choose clothes that are comfortable depending on the weather or their needs. Finally, they are influenced by fashion trends or what is popular in their culture or social group.

Why do people dislike going shopping for clothes?

People may dislike going shopping for clothes for a few reasons. First, it can be time-consuming, with many people feeling tired after trying on lots of outfits. Second, some people find it stressful to pick the right clothes, especially with so many options. Lastly, shopping can be expensive, and not everyone wants to spend money on clothes they don't really need.

Describe the picture

In this picture, I can see a man sitting in a library. He is wearing a yellow shirt and blue jeans. He is reading a blue book and looks very focused. Behind him, there are many books on the shelves. The place looks quiet and perfect for studying or relaxing. I think he enjoys reading and maybe he is a student. The library looks clean and well-organized. It's a good place to learn new things.

1. What kind of things do you enjoy reading?

I enjoy reading stories, especially mysteries and adventure books, because they are exciting and keep me interested. I also like reading articles about science and technology because they help me learn new things. Sometimes, I read travel blogs to discover new places and get ideas for future trips. Reading about different topics keeps me entertained and helps me learn more about the world around me.

2. Why do people enjoy reading books?

People enjoy reading books for a few reasons. First, books let them escape into exciting stories and new worlds (sách giúp người đọc thoát khỏi thực tế và trải nghiệm những câu chuyện thú vị, thế giới mới). Second, books help people learn new things and discover different ideas. Finally, reading is a great way to relax and feel calm after a busy day.

Describe the picture

In this picture, I can see a woman and a child standing on a rocky mountain. They are both wearing backpacks, so I think they are hiking. The woman is holding the child gently, and they are looking at the beautiful view. There are a lot of trees and hills in the background. The weather looks sunny and nice. It seems like they are enjoying nature and spending time together. I think this is a great outdoor activity.

1. When was the last time you visit a new place? Giống ảnh mẹ công con học trên lớp.

2. Why do people like visit a new place? Giống ảnh mẹ công con học trên lớp.

Describe the picture.

1. Tell about a time you did something active.

I like to do active things sometimes. The last time I did something active was last week. I went to the park with my friend and we played soccer. It was fun and we ran a lot. We also kicked the ball hard and tried to score goals. Sometimes we missed and laughed. It was a sunny day and the grass was green. I felt happy and healthy. I think doing active things is good for you. It makes you strong and energetic. That's why I like to do active things sometimes.

2. How important is it for people to be active?

It is very important for people to be active. Here are three reasons why. First, being active can improve your physical health and prevent diseases. Second, being active can boost your mood and mental well-being. Third, being active can help you socialize and make new friends. These are some of the benefits of being active. You should try to move your body every day and have fun!

Describe the picture

1. What are the benefits of playing sports?

Playing sports has many benefits for people. First, sports can improve physical health and fitness. People who play sports regularly can have stronger muscles, bones and immune systems (hệ miễn dịch). Second, sports can reduce stress, anxiety. Third, sports can help people develop social skills and teamwork and expand their relationship. In conclusion, playing sports is good for people's body, mind and soul.

2. Tell me about the sport you played or the sports program you watched recently?

I played soccer with my friends last weekend. It was a lot of fun. We divided into two teams and played for an hour. The score was 3-2 for my team. I scored one goal and assisted another. Soccer is a great sport because it keeps you fit and healthy. It also helps you make friends and have fun. I like soccer because it is exciting and challenging. You have to be fast, skillful and smart to play well. Soccer is my favorite sport.

Describe the picture.

1. Tell about a time when you go somewhere with your friends.

Last week, I went to Vung tau beach with my friends. We had a lot of fun there. We swam in the sea, played volleyball on the sand, and ate delicious seafood. We also rented a boat and explored the nearby islands. We saw some dolphins and turtles. It was amazing. We took many photos and videos to remember our trip. I really enjoyed spending time with my friends at Vung tau beach. It was one of the best experiences of my life.

2. What is the benefit of doing/ working with others?

Working with others can be very helpful. First, you can learn new things from them, share your ideas, and get feedback. Second, you can also support each other when you face challenges or difficulties. Third, working with others can make you more creative, productive, and happy. It can also help you build good relationships and friendships.

Describe the picture.

1. Tell about the last time you travelled somewhere

Last month, I went to Vung Tau with my friends. It was a fun trip. We took a bus from Ho Chi Minh City and arrived in the morning. We checked in at a hotel near the beach and then went swimming. The water was warm and clear. We also played volleyball and built sandcastles. In the evening, we ate seafood and watched the sunset. It was a beautiful view. I enjoyed spending time with my friends and relaxing in Vung Tau.

2. Why some people find travelling stressful?

Some people find travelling stressful for different reasons. First, they may have to deal with a lot of planning and preparation, such as booking flights, packing luggage, and getting visas. Second, they may face unexpected challenges or problems during their trip, such as delays, cancellations, or lost items. Third, they may have to adapt to a new culture or environment, such as language barriers, food differences, or weather changes.

These factors can make travelling stressful for some people who prefer routine and comfort over adventure and uncertainty.

Describe the picture

1. Why do people like eating out with friends?

People like eating out with friends for many reasons. One reason is that they can try different kinds of food and share their opinions. Another reason is that they can have fun conversations and laugh together. Eating out with friends can also make them feel closer and happier. Some people may not have time to cook at home, so eating out with friends can be a convenient and enjoyable option. Eating out with friends is a way to relax and have a good time.

2. Please talk about the last time you ate with friends?

The last time I ate with friends was a few weeks ago. We went to a Vietnamese restaurant and ordered pho, which is a delicious noodle soup. We had a lot of fun talking about our lives, our hobbies, and our plans for the future. I enjoyed spending time with them and tasting the different flavors of the broth, the meat, and the herbs. It was a warm and cozy meal that made me feel happy and relaxed. I hope to eat with them again soon.

Describe the picture

1. Tell us about the time you give a presentation. How did you feel?

I gave a presentation last week. It was about my project on climate change. I felt nervous before I started. I practiced a lot, but I was still afraid of making mistakes. I used slides and pictures to show my main points. I spoke slowly and clearly. I looked at the audience and smiled. They seemed interested and asked me some questions. I answered them as best as I could. I felt happy and proud when I finished. I think I did a good job.

2. Why are people scared of public speaking?

Many people are scared of public speaking for some reasons. Firstly, they worry about making mistakes or forgetting what to say. They think that other people will judge them harshly or laugh at them. Secondly, they feel nervous or anxious in front of a large audience. Finally, they lack confidence or experience in speaking skills. They may not know how to organize their speech, use their voice, or engage their listeners.

Describe the picture.

1. Tell me the last time you crossed the street.

The last time I crossed the street was yesterday. I was going to the grocery store to buy some milk and eggs. I waited for the green light and then I looked both ways before stepping onto the crosswalk. There were some cars passing by, but they slowed down and stopped for me. I walked quickly and safely to the other side of the street. I felt happy because I followed the traffic rules and I was careful. That's how I crossed the street yesterday.

2. Why are some people scared of crossing the street?

Some people are scared of crossing the street for different reasons. First, they may have had a bad experience in the past, such as being hit by a car or seeing someone else get hurt. Second, they may lack confidence (thiếu sự tự tin) or skills in crossing the street safely that make them feel nervous or panic (lo lắng và sợ hãi). Third, they may not trust the drivers or the traffic lights, and think that they are not safe enough.