

TRAVEL CLUB

Part 2:

Why are you interested in travel?

I love travel because it opens my mind to new cultures, experiences, and people. Travel makes me happy and curious. I want to see the world and learn from it.

Part 3:

A: Tell me a time you had a trip in bad weather.

Last year, I went camping with my friends. It was sunny when we left, but it started to rain hard at night. We got wet and cold, and our tent leaked. It was a bad trip, but we still had fun.

B: Traveling a long distance by some means of transportation is not good for the environment? Do you agree?

I disagree. Traveling a long distance can be good for the environment. It can help us learn about different cultures and places. It can also inspire us to protect nature and wildlife. We can travel in eco-friendly ways, like trains or bikes.

C: What are the most interesting places to visit in your country?

Vietnam has many interesting places to visit. You can see beautiful nature, ancient temples, and lively cities. Some of the best places are Ha Long Bay, Hoi An, and Ho Chi Minh City. You will enjoy the culture, food, and people of Vietnam.

D: What is the most exciting journey you've been on?

The most exciting journey I've been on was a road trip with my friends. We drove across the country, saw many beautiful places, and had lots of fun. It was an amazing adventure that I'll never forget.

E: Can you remember the first time you went on a journey by yourself? What was it like?

I went on a journey by myself when I was 12. I took a bus to visit my grandma. It was scary but also fun. I felt grown-up and independent. I enjoyed seeing new places and meeting new people.

Part 4:

Dear members,

Our club is planning to encourage tourists to visit an area. We also want visitors coming to our areas to behave politely. Please raise your voice and give some suggestions for this plan.

Hi Sara,

How's it going? I hope everything goes well with you.

I just got an email from the travel club. The club is planning to encourage tourists to visit an area. They also want visitors coming to our areas to behave politely. I think we should create brochures or flyers about our area's attractions and distribute them to hotels, airports, and tourist centers. We could also put up simple, friendly signs in key spots, reminding tourists to respect local customs and the environment. What do you think? Do you have any other suggestions?

Love,
Nguyen

Dear manager,

I hope this email finds you in good health.

My name is Vu Khanh Nguyen and I have been a club member for 5 years. I am writing this email to express my opinion concerning the recent email that I have received from the club.

According to the email, the club is planning to encourage tourists to visit an area. They also want visitors coming to our areas to behave politely. To be honest, I was on top of the world when I heard this news.

From my perspective, I think we should make some brochures or flyers that introduce our area and its attractions. We can distribute them to hotels, airports, or tourist centers. This way, more people will know about our area and what it has to offer.

Besides, to encourage polite behavior, we could put up signs in important areas, asking tourists to respect local customs and the environment. The signs should be simple, friendly, and easy to understand, maybe with translations for visitors from other countries. This way, we can avoid conflicts or misunderstandings with the locals.

I hope you find my suggestions helpful. Please let me know if you have any questions or feedback.

Sincerely,
Nguyen

Dear President,

I hope this email finds you in good health.

First, I would like to introduce myself. My name is Vu Khanh Nguyen and I have been a club member for 5 years. I am writing this email to express my opinion concerning the recent email that I have received from the club.

According to the email, the club needs suggestions to help first-time travelers abroad and improve communication while traveling. I have some suggestions that I want to share.

First, learning some basic phrases in the local language, like greetings and common expressions, can really help. It makes interactions easier and shows respect for the local culture.

Second, using translation apps on your phone is also a great idea. These apps can translate text and spoken words instantly, which is very useful.

Finally, always try to be polite and patient. Even with good preparation, language barriers can still cause confusion. Staying calm and respectful will help you handle these situations better and make your experience more enjoyable.

These suggestions should make the travel experience more enjoyable and less stressful for first-time international travelers.

Thank you for considering these ideas. I look forward to hearing your thoughts.

Sincerely,
Vu Khanh Nguyen

HOME LIVING CLUB

Part 2:

Describe where you live

I live in Ho Chi Minh City, the largest and most populous city in Vietnam. It is a busy and lively place with many cultural and historical attractions. I enjoy the diversity and energy of this city.

Part 3:

A: You have to stay in the bedroom but have to share with your brother. How do you feel?

I feel happy to share the bedroom with my brother. He is my best friend and we have fun together. We play games, read books and tell jokes. I like having him around. He makes me laugh and feel safe.

B: It is better to live in the city or in the countryside. Do you agree? Why?

I prefer living in the city. There are more things to do and see. I can meet new people and have fun. The countryside is boring and lonely. I don't like nature or animals. The city is better for me.

I don't agree. I like the countryside more. It is quiet and peaceful. The city is noisy and crowded. The countryside has fresh air and nature. The city has pollution and buildings. I think the countryside is better for living.

C: Nowadays, old buildings are demolished and replaced with modern buildings. I feel we should protect historic buildings. How do you think?

I agree with you. Historic buildings are part of our culture and heritage. They show us how people lived in the past and what they valued. Modern buildings are often boring. They lack the charm and character of old buildings. We should preserve historic buildings for future generations.
