Hi Sara,

I hope you're doing well! How's everything?

I just got an email from the club manager asking for ideas for a new poster. I'm really excited about it! I think we should use bright colors like blue and yellow to catch attention, and include pictures from recent events to show how fun the club is. A simple, modern design would appeal to (thu hút) younger people.

What do you think? Let me know your ideas!

All the best,
Nguyen

Hi Sara,

I hope you're doing well! How's everything going?

I just got an email from the club about the summer trip, and we need to suggest whether we should go to the mountains or the coast. To be honest, I think both places could be great. The mountains would be perfect for hiking and adventure, while the coast would be relaxing and great for families. What do you think?

All the best,
Nguyen

Dear Manager,

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Nguyen, and I have been a member of the club for two years. I am writing to offer my suggestions for the summer trip, as mentioned in your recent email.

According to the email, the club is considering two options: the mountains or the coast. From my perspective, both locations have unique benefits, and I believe we can choose either based on the activities planned.

For younger people, the mountains would be ideal for hiking, camping, and adventurous activities. The fresh air and beautiful scenery would be great for those who enjoy outdoor sports and challenges. On the other hand, the coast would be perfect for families and older members. It offers a relaxed environment with opportunities for beach activities, walking along the shore, and enjoying the sea breeze.

It might be a good idea to consider a mix of both, where we could spend a few days in the mountains for adventure and then move to the coast to relax. I hope this suggestion is helpful.

Looking forward to hearing your thoughts.

Yours sincerely,
Pham Khanh Nguyen

NATURE CLUB

You are a member of a nature club and want to build a nature park so that club members can see wildlife and their habitats or do you want to build a tree line for everyone in the city to use?

- 1. Write an email to your friend to talk about your choice and explain why*
- 2. Write an email to your manager to talk about your choice and explain why*

Hi Sara,

I hope you're doing well! How's everything going?

I just got an email from the Nature Club asking whether we should build a nature park or a tree line for the city. To be honest, I'm really excited about it! I think a nature park would be the best option because it would allow everyone to experience wildlife in their natural habitats. It's an amazing way to connect with nature.

What do you think?

All the best,
Nguyen

Dear Manager,

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Nguyen, and I have been a member of the Nature Club for two years. I am writing to share my thoughts about the recent suggestion to either build a nature park or a tree line for the city.

According to the email, we have the option of building a nature park where people can see wildlife and their habitats or creating a tree line in the city. After considering both options, I believe a nature park would be the better choice.

A nature park would give people the opportunity to experience wildlife in their natural environment. It would also serve as an educational space where people can learn about animals and plants, and the importance of protecting nature. While a tree line would add greenery to the city, I feel the park would offer a richer, more immersive experience for everyone.

I hope you will consider this suggestion. I believe the nature park would have a bigger impact on our community and on environmental education.

Yours sincerely,
Pham Khanh Nguyen
